For the prevention and cure of ILLIUS AND MALIGNANT FEVERS is recommended
HAN'S ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS.
This Medicine has been attended to a degree of success highly grateful inventor's feelings in several parts the West Indies and in the Southern Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons be adduced, who have been cured by that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak in favour of a medicine than commons of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.
It is not indeed presumptuously proclaimed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason that can result from extensive experience for believing that a dose of these Pills taken in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, at the earlier stages of those diseases their use will generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases terminating desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly safe, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.
They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold it taken on its first appearance: they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness at the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

stinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, cafords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.

Warranted an infallible remedy at one application, may be used with perfect safety by pregnant women, or on infants a week old, not containing a particle of mercury or any dangerous ingredient whatever, and not accompanied with that tormenting smart which attends the application of other remedies.

Hahn's true & genuine German Corn Plaster.

ly removing them root and branch, without giving any pain.

The Genuine Persian Lotion.
So celebrated among the fashionable throughout Europe, is an invaluable cosmetic, perfectly innocent and safe, free from corrosive and repellent minerals, the basis of other lotions, and of unparalleled efficacy in removing blemishes of the face and skin, freckles, pimples, inflammatory redness, scurfs, tetter, ringworms, sunburns, prickly heat, &c.

Hahn's genuine Eye Water.

the eyes, whether the effect of nature, weakness, or of accident.

most severe instances.

Fan-Sash Making.
METAL FAN-SASHES, of various descriptions, will be made by the subscriber, at his shop, lower end of Duke street. The want of a Metal Fan-Sash Manufacture in Alexandria, has hitherto been severely felt by builders and others, who have been compelled to make use of wood, which is neither elegant nor durable. The various forms into which the metal can be shaped have given it a decided superiority, and the difference in the price is very trifling. The subscriber has been at considerable expense in procuring the necessary preparations, and relies on public enterprise for success in the undertaking.
Gentlemen in the country, by sending the dimensions of their sashes, can have them made at the same price as if in town.

Proposals
FOR Publishing by Subscription, and now ready for the press, a series of historical volumes, which when finished will assume the title of Universal History Americanised; Or, an historical view of Europe, Asia, Africa and America, from the earliest records to the nineteenth century—with a particular reference to the state of society, literature, religion, and form of government in the United States of America.

BY DAVID RAMSAY, M. D.
"Life is so short and time so valuable, that it were happy for us if all great works were reduced to their quintessence."
—Sir William Jones.
PROSPECTUS.
AFRICA.
The Asiatic part of this work contains a general view of the antediluvian—of the general deluge—of the re-settlement of the Globe after that great event—of the primitive postdiluvian nations, which were formed in Asia, the cradle of the world. Their various ramifications, revolutions, and of the general course of Empire.

AFRICA.
The African part contains a concise history of Egypt, Carthage, Nubia, Mauritania, Abyssinia, of the Principal States, and the Hottentots, with a grouped view of its uncivilized settlements.

EUROPE.
The European part contains the history of Greece and Rome, from their origin to their dissolution—of the various nations which were conquered by them—and of the nations by which the Romans themselves were finally conquered, and of the nations which were formed from the fragments of the Roman Empire, and the various revolutions of the latter, together with a view of the nations which never were subjected to the Romans.

AMERICA.
The American part contains a general history of the Western continent, under the heads of Free, European, and Aboriginal or unconquered America. The first contains a history of the United States, from their first settlement as English Colonies, till the present time—
The second, of all parts dependant on Europe.—And the third, of all that are still owned by the Aborigines.

It is expected that the whole will be comprised in 10 or 12 octavo volumes; of between four and five hundred pages each—to be printed in Philadelphia, on good paper and fat types, for 25 1-5 per volume, (in sheep binding, or 24 1-5 Calf gilt, to be paid for on delivery.

UNIQUE STATES.
This work has been in contemplation upwards of 40 years. The project of it was conceived in 1786, on reading the Universal History, then recently edited in 60 volumes, by a society of gentlemen in England. The original idea of extracting the quintessence of that va-luminous work, which contained the most complete system of history the world had then seen, has ever since been enlarging and improving by an extensive perusal of the histories written by Robertson, Hume, Gibbon, and other modern authors—of the Asiatic researches—of the works of Sir William Jones, and other learned Orientalists—the publications of intelligent travellers, who, in the course of the last half century have explored almost every region of the Globe. These collectively have thrown a blaze of light on countries comparatively unknown, and on portions, both of ancient and modern history which were confused and obscure at the period when the writers of the Universal History published their work. The arrangement of materials collected from these sources commenced in the year 1786, when, in consequence of the surrender of Charleston to Sir Henry Clinton, the author was suddenly released from a sea of business and sent as a prisoner of war to the British Garrison then in St. Augustine, and there confined for eleven months, without any peculiar employment. Steady progress has been made for the last ten years in correcting and transcribing the work for publication.

The History of the United States is given at full length—that of foreign countries is more or less expended or contracted in proportion to the intrinsic importance of each—its tendency to illustrate portions of Holy Writ—the Greek and Latin Classics—and also in propo-tion to its connexion with the U. States, or as furnishing useful practical information to its citizens, or as the paternal soil of their ancestors.

The above sketch of the nature and objects of this immense work, which has occupied the attention of the Author for upwards of 40 years, was found among his papers, and is now given to the public in his own words. Since that period, a few chapters have been added by the Reverend SAMUEL BARNARD SWIFT, which brings it down to the close of the last war.
The publication commences with a third impression of the History of the U.
States, in three volumes, which is all that has ever appeared. The whole will not be delivered under 13 or 20 months. It is proper to state, that the gentlemen who have the direction of it are neither bookellers nor printers, and receive no pecuniary consideration for their trouble —but are willing to make the necessary advances to carry it into execution provided the sale is warranted by public patronage. The profits arising are to be appropriated for the support and education of his children, four of each sex, to them its success is a matter of deep importance.

CRITICISM ON PHILLIPS'S ELOQUENCE, FROM THE EDINBURGH REVIEW.

[Concluded.]

"But the mismanagement appears far greater upon occasions where a particular point was to be steadily kept in view; and we should select, as a specimen of this, the manner in which he handles his topics in a speech which, from internal evidence, we have no doubt he prefers to all the rest—that for O'Mullan. It is not very easy to collect the circumstances of the case, from the labored, vague, figurative declamation in which it is opened; but as far as we can get a glimpse of it, the action was brought for a libel in a newspaper against a catholic priest, accusing him of an assault upon his bishop and the recorder, in his own chapel; whereas at the time when it was alleged to have been committed, he was absent in Dublin, obtaining subscriptions for a charity school. Now, to state the cause of his absence was highly proper; and there would have been nothing extravagant in adding a single sentence in commendation of the object of his journey. But this would not satisfy the insatiable love of display, which rules in this advocate—and he straightway enters into the subject of education as if he had been delivering a lecture upon it."

"We cannot now make room for it—but the orator proceeds at great length, comparing education to a cross which appeared to the hesitating Constantine, asserting that if man will allow its precepts purely, (the precepts of education!) he shall have victory in this world, and the portals of omnipotence will open for his admission; and ascribing, at some length, the rise of Athens, Rome, and Sparta, to its influence. He then goes on to state that the blessings of education are peculiarly applicable to the Irish; and this brings in one of his choice morsels upon the character of that people, which we begin to cite, our readers will recognize pretty much as those of the Vicar of Wakefield do the man who talked of Sanconjathap, Manetted, and Berossus—lively, ardent, intelligent and sensitive; nearly all their acts spring from impulse, and so forth," exactly to the tune of a passage already quoted from another speech, until we arrive at a strange consequence, which it seems, 'this principle' (often subject) produces; it leads victory captive at her (Ireland's) ear, and holds echo mute at her eloquence; making a national monopoly of fame, and attempting, as it were, to naturalize the achievements of the universe." He then passes to another topic, quite foreign to the course of his argument and declamation, but which he says is 'connected with the subject of the trial'—this liberty of the press; and he gives nearly two pages of rant upon this; part of which we have already extracted.

"We have both now and in the former article upon Mr. Phillips, expressed our reluctance at performing the harsh task which our duty imposed upon us. We not only approve generally of his conduct (excepting always the intolerable discrepancy of his sneers at Mr. Grattan, and the absurd attempts to make the catholics believe that all parties are alike hostile to their cause) but we consider him to be a young man whose errors are those of bad taste, and who might have excelled had he not listened to friends and mobs. He shows no defect of talent; on the contrary there are many passages in the volume before us, which display a natural genius for oratory.

"It is even now too late to reform?—The criticism which ought to make him pause and question the soundness of the taste he has hitherto been guided by, may possibly have no other effect than to irritate him, and make him pursue his present errors more pertinaciously. That it should have the effect of disheartening him, we take to be highly improbable;—for surely the confidence which has dictated this publication is a plant of no sickly growth. If he takes as he ought what has been said, not merely by us, but by all those whose judgment any man of sense would value, and applies himself to the correction of his innumerable defects; if he learns to think of his subject; to regard the sense always—even in ornamental passages; to speak plainly and rationally; to use figures only when they come naturally in; and then to use them as not abusing them—we will venture to promise him very considerable success in the arduous pursuit of oratorical renown.

There is nothing in this world which gives a man so much importance—nothing which hides so many faults and many virtues as money. Without money an honest man is despised, and with it the greatest rascal of the meanest scoundrel is respected. You shall see a being, without a single pretension to humanity—a mere walking lump of grossness and depravity—one of the vilest of the vile, provided it possesses the one thing needful—accompanied and almost worshipped by half a score of lickspittles and sycophants, bowing and grinning, applauding at every thing it utters; while a poor man of talents, of feeling, sensibility, and an independent soul, shall wander alone and unfriended through a world which cares not for his sorrows.

To be poor is the lot of many, from the commencement of their existence; but misfortune is apparently considered as a crime, and there is nothing more galling to a poor man of liberal mind, than that kind of hatred and arrogance which the rich and affluent assume toward him—more especially, if he has once been in better circumstances; he feels it keenly—it sinks deep.

But to be reduced from affluence to misery and want; not by any fault of our own, but by a concurrence of unfortunate events, not in the power of man to foresee or prevent, and in consequence of being poor to be treated with contempt and scorn, by those with whom, in days of prosperity we have been intimate and called friends, embitters a man's feelings, makes him miserable and misanthropic, and causes him to despise human nature.

There is nothing which produces so much hatred to a former friend, as the belief that he avoids you, because you have been unfortunate in business, and yet if a man has failed, no matter what may have been the cause, friendship soon changes into pity, and sorrow for misfortunes quickly degenerates into contempt—and the poor bankrupt generally, not only loses his friends and credit; but also becomes, at least for a time, "an object for scorn to point his slow unmoving finger at."

There are it is true a certain class in society, whose opinions, whose good or ill will, has no more effect on an honest man, than the idle wind—I mean those flat, lazy and stupid beings whom you find in all places, and meet at every corner of the street, whose money is respected, but who have no personal character. Yet this class of things—these purse-proud puppies—these substitutes for men, who have neither capacity to conceive, ambition to attempt, nor ability to execute, any thing either good or bad—tens of thousands whose little souls might inhabit the shell of a tobacco seed, and whose veins to let—are suffered by common consent of society in a manner to look down upon, and tyrannize over honest industrious men, whose talents ought to entitle them to the first rank.

It therefore becomes necessary for every man, whether knavish or honest—whether stupid or eminent, to get money—to get it honestly if he can, but by all means to get it. For he is as wise as Solomon, as strong as Sampson, and as brave and eloquent as Caesar, unless he possess the wealth of Croesus, he will be disregarded and despised.

CURIOUS INCIDENTS.

The following relation is given by gentlemen who were witnesses of the fact while going up James River, on the 1st inst. in the Steam Boat Powhatan.—In passing Day's Point they observed an Eagle, which, after hovering about the shore for some time, made a sudden dart into the water, where he remained out of sight, about two seconds, and then reappeared bearing in his talons a fish apparently three feet in length.—In a minute or two, however, he plunged again into the water, and again appeared with his prey. This operation he repeated a second time, still holding the fish in his claws; a third time he descended with it, but was seen no more! The conjecture was, that the Eagle had got his talons so deeply involved in his scaly prize that he could not extricate them, and his strength was not adequate to bear it away to the shore.

SYMPATHY.

It is with the tears wiped from other eyes, that we heal our own bosom wounds. It is by renouncing selfishness and cherishing sympathy, that the once wretched, despairing man, restored to the privileges of a human being, learns to say, "It is good for me to have been afflicted."

Good rewards never fail to crown the end of a well prosecuted good.

ALEXANDRIA: FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1818.

We have received a letter from a friend in Cincinnati, (Ohio) dated on the 16th of April, which informs us that the season there has been backward, and the weather surprisingly cold.—Also, that Mr. Plummer and Emmons, alias Foster, had been apprehended and committed to prison. It will be recollected that these are the two persons suspected of committing the daring, though at the same time ingenious robbery on the Bank at Pittsburgh, (Pa.) in March last.

[Georgetown Messenger.]

Norfolk, May 4.

Capt. William E. Baxter, for whose apprehension a reward of five hundred dollars was offered by the Marine Insurance Company of this town, was apprehended at Elizabeth City, N. C. on Thursday last, by the sheriff of Pasquotank county. Capt. B. after sailing from Charleston, proceeded to Newbern, where he left the brig and came on to Elizabeth City in the Steam Boat Norfolk. We understand that he declares his intentions to have been honorable, and that he has vouchers to prove that his conduct in the whole transaction has been strictly correct! On this head we shall offer no opinion; we merely state facts.

[Herald.]

From the N. Y. Evening Post, April 30.
Liverpool, March 28.

The sales of cotton this week are 7300 bags, the imports 12331—of the imports 5368 are Bengals. Middling Orleans are rather lower, and Bengals and Surats 1-4 a 1-2 per lb. Bowed and sea islands are scarce, and in demand. Flaxseed has been sold at 113s, but it is dull.—Wheat continues in demand, and one third advance, namely 15s—for samples of fine American has been obtained, and from six to seven thousand barrels of flour have been sold, chiefly on speculation at 55s a 56s 6d, and 57s has been paid for small parcels of good Philadelphia; sour has been also selling freely at 43s 6d to 46s, but it is now held at 47s. The 5th week's average of wheat since the 15th Feb. received to-day, is 84s 2d per qr. and the interior markets are generally rising; in our opinion, therefore, it is now quite decided that the ports will remain open for wheat and flour until August.

Pot ashes are one shilling lower; tobacco a shade higher; other articles without alteration.

Our opinion as to the ports remaining open is founded upon the consideration that though we have only yet got the 5th return of the first six weeks, yet the ensuing week to the 4th prox. furnishes the first of the last six averages, and the prices are now generally higher through the country than in the week for the 5th return. The first average must therefore exceed 84s, the 2d as much, the 3d also. Indeed we see no reason for any of the 6 being lower, but even the 1st and 2d being as high as 84, which we consider certain, would render it necessary for the average of the 4 last returns to be as low as 78s to close the ports, which we consider impossible. We are, &c.

ANOTHER INDIAN BATTLE.

Copy of a letter from Gen. William McIntosh, commanding the Creek warriors, to D. B. Mitchell, Esq. Agent for Indian Affairs.

Camp 30 miles from Nickasukie, (on the way to Suwannee), 13th April, 1818.

Sir—Since I have left you I have not sent you a talk of what we have done, and I now send you this. I heard yesterday of Peter McQueen being near the road we were travelling, and I took my warriors and went out and fought him.—There seemed to be a considerable number collected there. When we first began to fight them, they were in a bad swamp, and fought us there for about an hour, when they ran and we followed them three miles. They fought us in all about three hours. We killed 57 of them, and took 98 women and children and six men prisoners, and about 700 head of cattle and a number of horses, with a good many hogs and some corn. We lost 3 killed and had 3 wounded. Our prisoners tell us that there was 120 warriors from six different towns. From what we saw, I believe there was more than they say, as some of our prisoners say there was 200 of them.

Tom Woodward and Mr. Brown, and your son our agent, and all the white men that live in our country, were with us through the whole fight, and fought well. All my officers fought so well I do not know which is the bravest. They all fought like men and ran their enemies.—Gen Jackson waited for us about six miles from where we fought. After the fight I went and joined him, and we are going this morning to fight the Negroes together. They are at Suwannee, and we shall be there in four days. There was among the hostiles a woman that was in the boat when our friends the white people were killed on the river below Fort Scott. We gave her to her friends—her husband and father are with Gen. Jackson—Maj. Kionard took her himself. This is all I have to tell you. I wish you would send a copy of this to the Big Warrior and Little Prince.

Your Friend,
WILLIAM MINTOSH,
Brig. Gen. comm'g C. W.
D. B. Mitchell, Esq. Agent I. A.

• Maj. Woodward of Baldwin—Edits.

By the brig General Jackson, captain Tear, 16 days from St. Barts, we learn that admiral Brion arrived there from the Oronoko. The day the brig sailed she conveyed several cargoes of mules to St. Rostatus, and visited St. Barts for the purpose of conveying to the main the military stores, on board of three British ships, from London. One of the above ships, the Emerald, a sloop of war, formerly in the French service, it is said the admiral had purchased for the use of his country. The admiral reports the events of the battles in February, to be of a most conclusive nature. The royal army under Gen. Morillo was completely defeated, the general dangerously wounded, and every section of the country yielding to the Independents without a struggle. When capt. T. sailed, admiral Brion's squadron of 3 sail, lay in Five Islands passage, and the admiral was at St. Barts, negotiating for the ship, &c. arrived there from England. The admiral stated his government was perfectly satisfied with the conduct of the United States in taking possession of Amelia Island, and that privateering under his authority had ceased—all armed vessels were to be commissioned and employed for public purposes only.

Passengers, Mr. Hurd and family, and Mr. Feckler, Swedish consul general.

Wilmington Del. May 2.

LATEST FROM SOUTH AMERICA.

By a late arrival several gentlemen in this neighborhood have received letters from the frigate Congress, at Buenos Ayres, where she arrived the 28th of February. One of them has been kindly put into our hands, and we have the promise of several more, in season for next paper: from this we make the following extracts:
Buenos Ayres, March 4.
"The Portuguese are still in possession of Montevideo. They have there 4 or 5 thousand men. Artigas, who is in possession of the surrounding country, keeps them cooped up within their lines, (extending about three miles from the city.) Without these they dare not venture, unless in considerable bodies. The Portuguese and Buenos Ayrean government are on good terms. Artigas is at war with both. The Buenos Ayreans sent lately several hundred men against him: These, it is said, he defeated. He carries on a sort of partizan warfare; his soldiers are little better than savages, generally mounted men, admirable riders, inured to hardship and danger. It is impossible for any army to operate successfully against them. They make an attack or an incursion, and are off in a moment.
"We could not get our frigate higher up the river than Montevideo: We made our passage from there to this place in a small schooner.
"Mr. M. received yesterday a letter from Chili, in which the arrival of the Ontario is mentioned; he went into Valparaiso, notwithstanding her having been forbidden by the Blockading squadron. A large Spanish vessel lately arrived there prize to the Adeline privateer. Juan Martin is in the neighborhood of Valparaiso.
"Perryden is still however here; and according to all accounts is not a little despatched. The clergy have great influence—many of them are members of the Congress—there is nothing like toleration, or liberty of the press.
"It is rumored that Perryden the Director will shortly be displaced by the Congress, by whom this officer, the chief magistrate, is elected.

"The Commissioners have not yet been presented. They are, I believe, to wait upon the Secretary of State tomorrow. How long we shall remain here, I think it is probable that our stay here will be limited to a month—or, at the extent, six weeks. I hope to be at home the latter part of June.

"The weather is very warm. The climate, though a fine one, does not come up to what I expected. We have a profusion of fine fruit, particularly grapes. The heat and dust (the latter is particularly annoying) render walking so disagreeable, that I have not yet been much abroad."

We are verbally informed that another letter gives some account of the rescue of a Portuguese sailor, belonging to the Congress, while on shore at Rio Janeiro. This circumstance, with some inadmissible requisitions from the authorities on shore, occasioned a correspondence, of considerable spirit on the part of captain Sinclair, which occasioned the king of Brazil, &c. who admired the spirited deportment of capt. Sinclair, to desire his attendance at Court, where he met with a flattering reception from the Portuguese monarch, who, in the course of conversation, observed, that he wished to cultivate the good will of the Americans; among whose virtues, he said, that of sincerity was beyond any other nation.

It was signified by the municipal authority, that capt. Sinclair must not depart without permission—This, however, was disregarded; and the frigate passed the fort with lighted matches, prepared to resist any attempt to interrupt her.

RESPECTFULLY inform the public that they have just received from

LEE'S MEDICINE STORE.

No. 46, Maiden Lane, New-York, a fresh supply of the following valuable MEDICINES:

Hamilton's Worm destroying Lozenges.

Which have within sixteen years past cured an immense number of persons of both sexes of every age and in every situation, of various dangerous complaints arising from WORMS, and from obstructions or foulness in the stomach and bowels.

This medicine bears no analogy whatever to others of similar titles so commonly complained of as operating with violence; on the contrary a particular excellence of this remedy is its being suited to every age and constitution. It contains nothing but what is perfectly innocent & is so mild in its operation that it cannot injure the most delicate pregnant lady or the tenderest infant of a week old should no worms exist in the body; but will without pain or griping cleanse the stomach and bowels of whatever is foul or offensive, and thereby prevent the production of worms and many fatal disorders. The lozenges are particularly efficacious in carrying off all gross humours and eruptions, feverish and bilious complaints, and are the safest and most purgative that can be used on any occasion.

Description of Worms, and the symptoms by which they are known.

Worms which infest the human body are chiefly of four kinds viz.—The Terebrator or large round worm; the Ascarides or small maw-worm; the Cucurbitaria or short flat white worm; and lastly, the Tænia or tape-worm, so called from its resemblance to tape. This is often many yards long and is full of joints. It is most hurtful and most difficult to remove.

Among the symptoms attending worms are—disagreeable breath, especially in the morning; bad and corrupted gums; itching in the nose, and about the seat; convulsions, epileptic fits, and sometimes privation of speech; starting and grinding of the teeth in sleep; irregular appetite, sometimes loathing food and sometimes voracious; purging with slimy and fetid stools; vomiting; large and hard belly; pains and sickness at the stomach; pains in the head and thighs and lowness of spirits; slow fever with small and irregular pulse; a dry cough; excessive thirst; sometimes pale and unhealthy countenance and sometimes the face bloated and flushed.

Persons afflicted with any of the above symptoms should have immediate recourse to Hamilton's Worm Destroying Lozenges, which have been constantly attended with success in all complaints similar to those above described.

A dose of this medicine given occasionally during the warm season, will effectually prevent "the vomiting and purging of children"—a dreadful disorder, which annually destroys thousands at the infant part of our citizens. It is likewise the mildest and most certain remedy known, and has restored to health and strength a great number when in an advanced stage of this fatal complaint. Particular and plain instructions are given for every part of the necessary treatment in such cases.

Children generally take this medicine with eagerness; having a pleasing appearance, and an agreeable taste.

The Restorative Powder for the Teeth and Gums.

For the prevention and cure of BILIOUS and MALARIAL FEVERS is recommended.

Hahn's ANTI-BILIOUS PILLS

THIS Medicine has been attended with a degree of success highly grateful to the inventor's feelings in several parts of the West India and in the Southern and Middle States, &c.

The testimony of a number of persons can be adduced, who have reason to believe that a timely use of this salutary remedy has, under Providence, preserved their lives when in the most alarming circumstances.

Facts of this conclusive nature speak more in favour of a medicine than columns of pompous eulogy founded on mere assertion.

It is not indeed presumptuously proposed as an infallible cure, but the inventor has every possible reason to believe that a dose of these Pills taken once in every two weeks during the prevalence of our bilious fevers, will prove an infallible preventive; and further, that in the earlier stages of those diseases their use will very generally succeed in restoring health, and frequently in cases esteemed desperate and beyond the power of common remedies.

The operation of these pills is perfectly mild, so as to be used with safety by persons in every situation and of every age.

They are excellently adapted to carry off superfluous bile and prevent its morbid secretions—to restore and amend the appetite—to produce a free perspiration and thereby prevent colds which are often of fatal consequences. A dose never fails to remove a cold if taken on its first appearance; they are celebrated for removing habitual constiveness—sickness of the stomach and severe head-ache—and ought to be taken by all persons on a change of climate.

They have been found remarkably efficacious in preventing and curing disorders attendant on long voyages, and should be procured and carefully preserved for use by every seaman.

Hamilton's Elixir.

A sovereign remedy for colds, obstinate coughs, asthma, sore throats, catarrhs, and approaching consumptions.

To persons who have children afflicted with the HOOPING COUGH, this discovery is of the first magnitude, as it affords immediate relief, checks the progress, and in a short time entirely removes the most cruel disorders to which children are liable. The Elixir is perfectly agreeable, and the dose so small that no difficulty arises in taking it.
